In this situation Mr. Wilson insisted that the Allies must be extremely careful not to let themselves appear the instrument of a reactionary influence of big landowners and industrialists which would rob the peasantry and working classes of their new liberty. He argued with reason that the inevitable result of such a suspicion would be a revival of Bolshevism in Russia which would turn directly against the Allies.

The agreement upon intervention, therefore, pledges the Allies to respect the territorial integrity of Russia and to abstain from interference in Russian internal politics. Its occasion is the INTERMEDIATE EDUCATION.

Internal politics. Its occasion is the emergence in Russia of forces actually engaged with, or directly threatened by the enemy who are ready to accept Allied assistance in fighting the Germans. The Czecho-Slovaks, who now control most of the Siberian railway west from Viadivostock, are one such force. These bodies of Czecho-Slovak troops are being opposed by a fine of German and Mayray prisoners acting in co-operation with the local Bolsheviks. They have reduced their own interference in Russian politics to a minimum; but wherever their influence extends the people of Sibria have rallied strongly behind them. The Russian brites in the Arctic coast region—where also a Czecho-Slovak element is present—formed to resist German-Finnish encroachment towards the Arctic, are another force which welcomes Allied assistance. So far as military intervention by the Allies is concorned, therefore, its objects are limited. They are "to render such protection and help as is possible to the Czecho-Slovaks, and to steady any efforts at self-government or self-defence in which the Russians themselves may be willing to accept assistance. the Montdidier sector the French have reached the Avre. On the Vesle all positions have been held.

Activity also about Bucquey and north of Bethune.

At dawn this morning the enemy launched a strong local attack against our new positions south of Morlancourt, astride the Bray-Corbie road. The assault, delivered by a division from the reserve, succeeded in carrying our advanced trench lines on a pertion of ground captured by us on the night of July 28th-28th. Local fighting is still taking place in this area, and a few prisoners have been taken by our treops. South-east of Rebseq our posts in the Pacau Wood sector have been further advanced on a front of about two thousand yards. A few prisoners were captured by us also in this area. Aviation.—On August 5th our aeroplanes carried out reconnaissances and observation for our artillery. Very few enemy machines were sighted, and there were no combats.

In addition to the German aeroplanes destroyed on August 3rd in air fighting, another was shot down on that day by machine gun fire from the ground.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.

To the north of Montdidier our troops progressed as far as the Avre, which they reached between Braches and Morisel.
An enemy coup de main to the east of Montdidier broke dewn completely. Some prisoners remained in our hands.
On the front of the Vesle we maintained our elements at several points of the northern bank of the river, despite all attempts of the enemy to throw us back.

Army Group of German Crown Prince.—After partial thrusts, without success, the enemy yesterday advanced with strong forces to the attack against the Vesle sections on both sides of Braisnes and north of Zonchery. We drove them back in a counter-thrust out of small sections of the wood on the north bank of the river in which they had emporarily located themselves. From this engagement several hundred prisoners remained in our hands.
